Romney Fails To Line Up With Scranton Platform

Freedom Now Party Forms Michigan Slate

DETROIT (AP) — A newly-created Freedom Now Party—dedicated to electing Negroes to public office—has become an unknown factor in Michigan's political balance of power this year.

The third party qualified officially for the ballot when it filed some 22,000 signatures requesting certification last May. Since then, Freedom Now leaders have announced plans to put up at least 25 candidates for Congress, the state legislature and other offices.

The organization has caused some concern to Democratic Party officials, who realize that any major shift of the traditionally-Democratic Negro vote could be disastrous in tight elections. In the past, some Negro precincts have given Democratic candidates as much as 80 per cent of their vote.

Pastor Is Chairman
Chairman of the new party is the Rev. Albert Cleage Jr., pastor of Detroit's Central Congregational Church, who claims the Freedom Now candidates will capture at least 100,000 votes.

Democratic state chairman Zolton Ferency scoffs at the estimate, but he admits there is some concern about just how many votes will be siphoned off by the new party.

Democrats recall with a shudder that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who held office for six consecutive two-year terms, squeaked in one year with a margin of only 8,618 votes and on another occasion won reelection by a 1,154-vote edge.

Although Cleage hopes the Freedom Now slate will draw enough votes to encourage Negroes to put up their own candidates in other states, formation of the all-Negro party has stirred up mixed emotions among leaders of the colored community.

Denounced And Praised
Some have praised the movement's avowed goal of "independent, black political action." Others have denounced it as a Negro parallel to the segregationist philosophy of the White Citizens Councils of the South.

Herman McGee, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality chapter in Battle Creek, Mich., said he doesn't believe the Freedom Now Party has the backing of the majority of Negroes.

An all-Negro party, McGee said, "only adds fuel to the already heated atmosphere that exists between white and colored."

Cleage, however, insists that his party is the only answer to what he feels is the denial to Negroes by both major political parties of the recognition and representation they deserve.

DR. MILTON S. EISENHOWER, president of Johns Hopkins University and a brother of Dwight Eisenhower, will nominate Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for President at the Republican convention in San Francisco next week. (AP Wirephoto)

Stand Opposed On Legality Of Rights Law

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney failed to line up today with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for a stop - Goldwater GOP platform declaration that the new civil rights law is constitutional.

In an advance text of his remarks furnished the convention platform committee for a Wednesday appearance, Romney did not mention the constitutional declaration Scranton's forces obviously had chosen as a vehicle for a convention floor fight they believe might torpedo Sen. Barry Goldwater's apparent grip on the Republican presidential nomination.

Another Setback
Scranton's backers also were reported in line for another setback in a ruling by Rep. Katherine St. George, R-N.Y., the convention parliamentarian, that rules of the House of Representatives will govern convention actions. The platform committee adopted similar rules Monday night.

The parliamentarian's ruling would mean that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee, would control the time and designate the speakers on both sides for convention debate on any proposed amendments to his committee's platform recommendations.

Laird is opposed to any platform declaration about the constitutionality of the civil rights bill. Goldwater, who has more than enough delegate votes to win the nomination unless they slip away, voted against the legislation in the Senate on the grounds that the public accommodations and equal employment sections were unconstitutional.

Fight Welcomed
In Washington, Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchell, said there will be a fight if efforts are made to put the constitutionality issue in the platform. "I'd welcome that kind of fight," he said.

Laird is understood to have argued with Romney against proposing action on the constitutionality question. The governor's omission of any mention of it in his prepared statement was taken as an indication that he had abandoned the project. He could revive it, however, by departing from his text or bringing it up in response to questions.

The issue assumed added proportions because Scranton and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., one of his principal advisers, made it clear they expect to carry it to the convention floor to add to the emotional atmosphere there.

Pennsylvania State Chairman Craig Truax, another Scranton strategist, told reporters he expects an emotional convention. He said he anticipates that National Young Republicans will be on hand to attempt to pack the galleries to root for Goldwater. He said there will be "some emotion on the other side, too."

Every Recruit Needed
Kent Courtney of New Orleans, head of an extremely conservative group backing Goldwater, said demonstrators would be on hand to greet Scranton when he appears before the platform committee Thursday.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who threw his weight behind Scranton when he abandoned his own efforts to win the nomination, scheduled testimony today. Harold E. Stassen, perennial candidate, also was on the list of witnesses.

Romney's action in not giving initial support to Scranton's call for a civil rights law constitutional declaration in the platform came as a blow to the Scranton forces, who obviously need every recruit they can get to buck the sturdy Goldwater support.

The Michigan governor also disagreed with another Scranton proposal—that the party should condemn specifically the John Birch Society. This was another shot aimed at Goldwater, who has criticized Robert Welch, the society's founder, but who has said he knows

Russia May Be Changing Policy Toward The UN

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U.N. peace-keeping operations has generally been uncooperative. The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly. The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peace-keeping activities. The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there. U.S. officials said that on the basis of the Tokyo reports they could not tell exactly what he Soviets intend by their proposal but assume that what they are calling for is the creation of a U.N. standing army.

In its 18 years, the United Nations has provided forces to deal with crises in a dozen instances, the most notable being the Korean war and the Suez, Congo and Cyprus situations.

Police Pelted In St. Louis, Mo.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—About 500 cursing, screaming Negroes pelted police officers and police cars with bricks and bottles Monday night after two officers answered a sick call.

Nine officers were injured, two believed seriously.

It was the second riot in the area since Friday when crowds estimated at 400 demonstrated in the streets of Kinloch, a predominantly Negro suburb. Three buildings were set on fire during that disturbance which started over a fight between two Negroes.

Police fired four tear gas grenades to break up Monday night's incident just west of downtown St. Louis. At least eight persons were arrested in the hour-long riot.

About 50 youths later marched on the nearby 9th District police station, tossing pieces of brick through windows before officers dispersed them. However, a number of Negroes stayed to picket.

Tragic Highway Toll Analyzed

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Fourth of July highway toll of 38 deaths was termed "a tragic experience" by State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs.

Childs said some unusual statistics helped account for the high toll.

"The unusual number of multiple deaths helped push the figure up," Childs said. "We had 20 persons killed in just seven accidents."

"There were five killed in one single accident," he said, "three persons killed in each of three other accidents and two deaths each in three more accidents."

Childs said multiple deaths must be expected over a holiday period, however, because more people are likely to be travelling in one car.

In addition, the state police commissioner said, an above average five pedestrians were killed in Detroit over the weekend.

Childs said he hoped this did not necessarily mean that the high accident trend would continue through the summer.

Mount Pleasant Indian Pow-Wow To Be Saturday

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — A pow wow will be held Saturday at Mount Pleasant by Gov. George W. Romney's newly-appointed Commission on Indian Affairs.

The commission, conducting its second meeting, will visit the nearby Isabella Reservation to check on living conditions there.

Meeting with the commission will be E. J. Riley, superintendent of the Great Lakes Indian Agency at Ashland, Wis. The commission is probing the possibility of obtaining more assistance from the Bureau of Indian Affairs for Michigan's reservation Indians.

The commission later plans to visit other state Indian communities.

Three Jackson Brothers Held In July 4 Riot

JACKSON (AP)—Three Jackson brothers demanded examination Monday on multiple charges stemming from an Independence Day riot between 125 Negro youths and 74 police officers.

Eight officers and one of the youths were injured in the melee, police said, but city officials emphasized that the riot was not racially motivated.

Namon Brown, 18, is charged with two counts of assault with intent to commit murder. He is held in lieu of $5,000 combined bond.

His twin, Raymond, is charged with two counts of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm less than murder, and is held under combined bond of $2,500.

Amos Brown, 17, was charged with disorderly conduct under a city ordinance and with obstructing arrest under a state statute. He demanded trial on the disorderly charge. Justice of the Peace Gordon W. Britton of Grass Lake, substituting for Jackson Municipal Judge Theodore Smith freed Amos under $100 bond and set trial for July 15.

Amos is held under $1,500 bond on the state charge. Justice Britton set hearings on the other charges for Wednesday.

A 15-year-old boy, also arrested in the riot, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Cpl. Calvin Watson of Jackson, one of the eight injured officers, has been hospitalized as a result of injuries received in the riot, police said. The others have returned to duty.

Police said the riot broke out after the Brown brothers were arrested for allegedly drinking behind a dance hall. When police attempted to arrest the boys, a group of youths rushed from the dance hall and tried to stop them. State police and Jackson County Sheriff's deputies reinforced the officers. It took nearly an hour to subdue the rioters.

Snow Avalanche Carries 14 To Death In France

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — An avalanche on Aiguille Verte—Green Needle — Peak in the Mont Blanc range today swept 14 Alpinists to a snowy death. Among them was Charles Bozon, world special slalom ski champion in 1962.

All of the victims were experienced mountain climbers. Four were professors from the French National School for High Mountains which trains and licenses mountain guides. Nine were students at the school.

The avalanche occurred at about 9,000 feet at a place called the Couloir Courrier — Courrier Corridor.

Bozon, 31, was often called France's greatest skier. He was unable to take part in the Winter Olympic games at Innsbruck, Austria, earlier this year because he had been suspended by the International Ski Federation on charges of professionalism. During a trip to the United States and Canada last year he took part in a race organized by professionals.

Khrushchev, 70, Has Good Time Despite Worry

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Despite all his obvious worries, Soviet Premier Khrushchev seems to be having an enormously good time.

Khrushchev is away from Moscow these days almost as much as he is at home. He looks almost like an executive thinking about retirement and determined to have a final, happy fling.

By his own admission, he feels his age. At his 70th birthday party April 17, he delivered a homily about his gratitude for attention paid him and his determination to work well to repay those who had faith in him. But he added that at 70, "a man hasn't much time left to pay back well for all he is given."

Not long before, he had noted that as he approached 70 he was feeling it and might not be able to hold the helm of party and state indefinitely.

Khrushchev now gives the impression that the machinery of the Communist party and the Soviet government at home runs pretty well without his physical presence.

This year, Khrushchev has been away 10 weeks. Early in January he went on a hunting trip in Poland. In March and April he toured Hungary.

In May, Khrushchev took a leisurely voyage to Egypt with his family and extended his stay to rest. In June, he went to Leningrad to meet Yugoslav President Tito, then shortly after boarded the liner Bashkiriya for an unhurried trip through Scandinavia. Khrushchev said in Sweden he intends to "go on leave" to his vacation hide-away on the Black Sea.

While Khrushchev is doing all this tripping about, who is minding the store?

At the top are men who could step easily into Khrushchev's shoes. These include Leonid I. Brezhnev, whose job as president of the Soviet government Presidium is becoming less and less ceremonial; Gennady Voronov, Dmitri Polyanski, Nikolai Podgorny, any of whom could be a prospective new premier.

To run the party he can rely on such men as M. A. Suslov and Leonid Ilyichev, who have long experience with ideological problems.

At the moment, there seems to be no threat to Khrushchev's position at the top.

Five Missing In Plant Blast

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Five employees of an explosives manufacturing plant that was rocked by a series of explosions and fires Monday were still missing today.

The five men listed by the American Cyanamid Co. as missing are Eugene Rudesill, 45; Gerald Wingard, 30; Donald Schenker, 38; Wilbur Robinson, 49; and Clarence Claypool, 63; all of New Castle.

Four explosions—all within an hour—ripped through American Cyanamid's 535-acre tract, located five miles west of New Castle and 80 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

The cause has not been determined. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

James Miles, assistant plant manager, said the first blast occurred about 10:30 a.m. in the nitroglycerin house.

Red Chinese Bag Third U2 Plane

TOKYO (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese high-altitude U2 plane was shot down over East China by Communist Chinese armed forces today, Peking Radio said.

The broadcast did not describe how the plane was shot down. It also did not give the exact location where the plane went down.

It was the third U2 plane claimed shot down by the Communist Chinese since Sept. 9, 1962. Another was shot down last Nov. 1.

Mexican Quake Takes 31 Lives

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The earthquake that rocked Mexico's Pacific coastal state of Guerrero took 31 lives, the government says, but no damage or casualties were reported in the crowded resort of Acapulco.

The quake early Monday was felt both in Acapulco and in this capital city 175 miles to the northeast. Buildings swayed in Mexico City but damage was light and only one man was slightly injured.

Reports reaching the federal government from Guerrero State said most of the 31 victims were crushed under collapsing buildings in mountain villages.

Acapulco radio station XEBB said it had confirmed 18 deaths in Coyuca de Catalan, 100 miles north of the resort, and reported the village had been destroyed.

Another report said four persons were killed in Ciudad Altamirano and that 80 per cent of the buildings there were destroyed. Acapulco, packed with tourists, was shaken for about half a minute.

The tremor in Mexico City was the capital's sharpest since a 1957 earthquake that took 66 lives. Buildings swayed, walls cracked and frightened tourists rushed into the streets in their nightclothes.

The quake reached a grade of 6 on the Mercalli scale of 12 at the Mexico City Observatory. The 1957 quake registered 8.

More Americans Arrive In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio says five more American students have arrived in Cuba to join 75 Americans already there despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel to the island.

A broadcast monitored in Miami said the five arrived Tuesday by plane from Prague. They were identified as Susan Rotolo, 20; Robert Collier, Steve Newman and Geoffrey Goldstein, all from New York, and Allan Low of California.

City, Junior Bands To Play

The Escanaba City Band will share its concert time with the Junior Band Camp band of 73 members at the Karas Bandshell in Ludington Park at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The concert will be postponed to Thursday night in event of inclement weather.

Cecil Collins will direct the City Band in the first portion of the program, and the Junior Band Camp students, recently returned from the second annual Band Camp at Clear Lake, will then play. The program will be that presented by the students at the close of the camp Saturday afternoon.

The Junior Band Camp is sponsored by the Escanaba Area Public Schools. This year's visiting musician at the camp was Searl Pickett of the G. LeBlanc Co., Fond du Lac, clarinet virtuoso.

Other staff members who will direct the Junior Band in concert here Wednesday night are Dave Laakso and John Chown of Escanaba, Paul Cowen of Gladstone, and James Keranen of Gwinn.

Laakso, the Junior Band Camp director, said the success of the camp in its second year indicates that it will be continued in 1965. The camp is self-supporting through student fees.

Ore Centennial To Bring Eventful Day Saturday

Varied and exciting events will mark a historically significant day in Escanaba Saturday when the people of the area celebrate the 100th year of iron ore shipping and express appreciation to the Chicago & North Western Railway Co.

The celebration is jointly sponsored by the City of Escanaba, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and the Delta County Historical Society.

The Ore Centennial will bring to Escanaba many persons of prominence in industry, commerce, and government.

Guests of honor, to whom the community will pay tribute in its recognition of the North Western Railway's 100 years of continuous service in the transportation of iron ore, will be Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the board, and C. J. Fitzpatrick, president, of the C&NW.

They and other C&NW officials will be honored at a noon luncheon at the House of Ludington and at a public banquet at the Area High School in the evening. The speaker will be Carl W. Hogberg, vice-president of materials services, U. S. Steel Corp., Pittsburgh. Hogberg is a native of Escanaba and his father was a railroad worker.

The events of the day will go like this:

Walbridge Says Romney's Best

John Walbridge, Delta County Republican chairman, left today for San Francisco and the Republican National Convention which starts formal sessions next Monday.

"I've not had an opportunity to inform myself about the candidates as much as I would like to have," said Walbridge, who was accompanied west by his wife. The Michigan delegation had meetings with both Senator Goldwater and Governor Scranton in Lansing, but I was unable to attend. To do it right a delegate should really take off all spring to prepare himself for the convention.

"Governor Romney appointed me to the credentials committee of convention and I should have been in San Francisco earlier.

"Gov. George W. Romney is my favorite candidate for President and he's going to stay that until someone else is nominated. I'm sure that he is the favorite of Dr. Fred Sabin, of Marquette, the other U. P. delegate and of Ralph Huhtala of Iron Mountain, a delegate at large.

"The Michigan delegation has pledged itself to Governor Romney until released and it is overwhelmingly for him. Richard Durant of the 14th District and 6 or 8 others are going their own way (for Goldwater).

"The Michigan delegation is not bound legally to Governor Romney but they voted to support him as a favorite son and we are honor bound to do that. I only expect 6 or 8 to bolt and not vote for the Governor.

"I have done what I could to acquaint myself with the views of the candidates. I read the position papers on Senator Goldwater and his speech on civil rights. I feel very strongly on civil rights. What comes across the news wires and what Senator Goldwater says are different things. He has a really sensible approach to the problem of civil rights.

"It's only on his foreign policy that I am a little jittery. Unfortunately what he says about it and what comes across in the press are different things.

"But my personal favorite is George Romney. I think he is far and away the greater of the three, but he is not available. If he were there would be no question about my support."

boy regained consciousness on Thursday and Green Bay doctors informed him that chances are very good the boy will not be permanently impaired in any way. Romney Fails To Line Up With Scranton

The society, which has headquarters at Belmont, Mass., describes itself as an "educational army dedicated to opposing the Communist conspiracy."

Sen. Scott reported after a meeting of a dozen other party moderates who are members of the platform committee that they had reached "rather general agreement" on strategy. Rep. Silvio O. Conte of Massachusetts, who attended the meeting called by Scott, said he understood that a rough draft on the platform already had been prepared.

No Help From Ike?

Clare Booth Luce, former member of the House and a former ambassador, recommended at the opening session of the platform committee in an overheated hearing room Monday night that the party go on record in support of the new civil rights law. She avoided any mention of the constitutional issue.

Mrs. Luce, who is supporting Goldwater for the presidential nomination, said the Republican Critical Issues Council she was representing favors "positive action to enable the Negro to utilize the rights and privileges which the law provides." She called for repeal of state laws which permit or sanction racial discrimination.

She reported the council favors further tax cuts "if the budget is kept close to balance and federal spending is restrained."

Mrs. Luce read the report after Dr. Milton Eisenhower, head of the council, withdrew as a witness because he will place Scranton's name in nomination.

GAME ISN'T OVER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan arrived Monday night for the Republican platform writing and said "the result is still undetermined" in the GOP presidential nomination.

The ball game isn't over," he told airport interviewers. Romney, once mentioned as a possible candidate, said he would take no position on a choice to head the ticket until after the party platform is completed.

He said that he has disagreed with some of Sen. Barry Goldwater's positions but that he has never indicated full opposition to him.

Some Birchers OK

Romney, in reply to a question, said the party should make it clear it is against political extremism but that he opposes specific denunciation of the John Birch Society.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania has said he favors a plank denouncing the society by name. Romney said he opposes Birchers who use position of party leadership to further the society, but that many members are "good people."

Romney stopped off in Salt Lake City Monday to try and convince Utah's 14 convention delegates to "refrain from a final and irrevocable commitment" to any presidential candidate.

Eleven of the delegates have publicly favored Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Romney said before the party choose its candidate, it needed to talk things over and arrive at a unity of spirit, purpose and method.

He added that he expects civil rights to be an important plank in the platform. Romney is a strong advocate of civil rights. Goldwater, who said he felt part of the bill was unconstitutional, voted against it.

Goldwater "Flexible"

Asked how Goldwater would fit Romney's conception of the Republican platform, the Michigan governor replied: "He's been a little flexible through the years. Not as inflexible as you might think."

Romney said Viet Nam would certainly be an important part of what he considers the vital foreign policy plank. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has said he didn't think Viet Nam would, or should, be a political topic.

Lodge returned from Viet Nam recently to help support the campaign of presidential hopeful William Scranton, governor of Pennsylvania.

PACKING THE GROCERIES — Mrs. Bud Malloy, above, of Manistique, winner of a 10-minute "shopping spree" in a contest sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., ran up a whopping total of $983.66 worth of groceries at a Manistique store. That's shopping at almost $100 a minute. Mrs. Malloy worked on a time table set by her husband, and guided by his directions with a stop-watch. She is shown here rushing to the checkout counter with an armload of steaks. Duane Tirschel, of Kingsford, represented the Pepsi-Cola Co. when the "shopping spree" was going on. (Paid adv.)

GOP Convention

The Republican National Convention meets in San Francisco next week with Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona appearing to have the Presidential nomination sewed up. A late start by Governor William Scranton of Pennsylvania hasn't caught fire and the party has come to look upon a Goldwater nomination as about inevitable.

Goldwater started early, when people were saying that it didn't matter who the Republicans nominated, because President Kennedy was going to win anyway. After the President's assassination the Republican cause for the Presidency didn't look so hopeless because President Johnson didn't have the appeal of John F. Kennedy and there was a resurgence of Republican hopes and more interest in the Republican nomination.

But not enough if the liberal elements in the party wanted a Republican nominee in the 1964 Presidential election. Gov. George Romney of Michigan wasn't available. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York was available but not strong enough, his image tarnished by his divorce. Scranton choose not to run, but when he was first importuned and then dissuaded by former President Eisenhower his conscience put him in the race.

And all the while there was Barry Goldwater, running the race that the party pros thought couldn't be won as though he could win it. He got commitments of delegates to his candidacy early and kept getting them. The popularity polls showed him trailing, but his delegate count kept going up. When it indicated that he'd be a first ballot nominee at San Francisco some of the kingmakers in the Republican party came to life at the 11th hour and there was an abortive Stop Goldwater drive, with Henry Cabot Lodge giving his strength to the anti-Goldwater forces.

There is no Republican ardency like that for Goldwater for any other candidate. He has strong appeal for the conservatives and the party's old hands regard him as Heaven sent. He's not another Wilkie or Eisenhower with liberal tendencies in a Republican wrapping, they say, but a man as different from the Democrats as black from white. There'll be no me-tooism with Barry.

The Democrats profess to be delighted with the prospect of his nomination but the coalition that he would appeal to is not well defined and it is obvious that there are millions in this country who'd like to see Big Government forced to take its hands out of John Citizen's pockets. There are millions, too, who want to soft pedal on anti-racism.

The Republicans going to San Francisco for the cheering at the Cow Palace should have three concerns:

1. Does Goldwater truly represent the main stream of thinking of most persons who call themselves Republicans, or has he captured or been captured by the far right wing of the party?

2. Can he attract enough Republicans and middle ground, uncommitted voters to be elected?

3. Are the Republicans, in naming him, creating an image of party reaction that would be harmful after November defeat?

Many hard core conservative Republicans who welcome the chance to fight Johnson and the Democrats behind the leadership of Barry Goldwater seemingly would rather lose with him, if they must, than face election with a candidate of broader appeal. They don't care what the polls say; they will try to prove them wrong, the way Harry Truman did.

The Gallup Poll reports that the Republican Party has been losing popularity with American voters for the last 24 years, according to its polling. In 1940 persons asked if they considered themselves Republican, Democratic or Independent said: Democratic 42 pct., Republican 38 pct. and Independent 20 pct. Today says the Gallup Poll, they identify themselves as Democratic 53 pct., Republican 25 pct. and Independent 22 pct.

Elections have shown much closer division between Democrats and Republicans than the poll percentages in recent years. Gallup says its because 35 pct. of all adults who claim to be Democrats don't vote, even in presidential years, while 30 pct. of Republicans don't vote regularly.

Americans are entering increasingly into a political atmosphere where firm prophecies are given circulation in an unprecedented national blast of publicity and newsletting. Election results are prefabricated and marked "Do not open until Election Day."

This modern miasma of sampling, opinion, and prophecy replaces an old system in which trends were defined in a much more casual and superficial way and in which the election was awaited for the final results. In the new order there is a chance for obscure trends to have their beginnings. Dissatisfaction with government may be working for Goldwater in this way.

Earlier in the campaign wags said that if all the persons who were divorced and all those who'd like to be divorced were to vote for Rockefeller he'd be in. If Goldwater could marshal the critics of government he might show unsuspected strength, although its nature should be cause for concern.

Pre-convention criticism has a way of evaporating later. Soapy Williams did his double-darnedest to keep Lyndon Johnson off the 1960 ticket and now he's working just as hard to get him re-elected. In Michigan Governor Romney has insisted for months that Goldwater would have to clarify his position on three issues to win Romney's support. These issues are civil rights, foreign policy and what Romney calls the excessive concentration of economic power in unions and corporations.

Romney is in a poor way to get his platform demands in San Francisco after the Illinois victory of Goldwater and the growing strength of the Arizonan in the Michigan delegation, but politics are not just for a day. There's another presidential election in 1968.

So They Say

I plan to try to be president to all the people up until the convention, and then we will let the convention determine where we go from there.

—President Lyndon Johnson.

—President Johnson.

My father told me to marry someone with a steady job.

—Adela Diaz Alejo, Mexican heiress, 19, nixes engagement to an actor to marry a house painter.

I don't mind so much what they're doing with their families these days. That's not nearly so awful as what they do with their arms and heads. All this jerky, jerky, jerking around. It's so unbecoming.

—Dancer Irene Castle, 71, on the twist.

I don't care what you say about me. Just be sure you spell my name wrong.

—Singer Barbra Streisand.

Twentieth century man has taken remarkable command of his material environment, except when it comes to getting from place to place in the very area where he lives.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A man to watch is U. Alexis Johnson, just named deputy to Gen. Maxwell Taylor new U. S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Johnson believes in a strong policy toward Red China. The Korean War taught him that a "no win" policy leads to future wars. He's convinced that neutralization of Laos was a mistake and that neutralization of South Viet Nam would be fatal.

Johnson is under no illusions as to the difficulty of winning the war in South Viet Nam. He's never kidded himself on how well we were doing.

In the inner circles of the Johnson administration, he has been one of the strong voices asserting the war was being fought the wrong way if we wanted victory.

A major reason for the Taylor-Johnson appointment was to pull the United States political, military, economic and intelligence effort in South Viet Nam together. To date, the U. S. war contribution has been suffering because the Saigon representatives of the different U. S. agencies have gone off in different directions. To put it bluntly, they've frequently worked at cross-purposes. Frequently, the efforts of one U. S. agency have been defeated by the lack of co-operation or even positive opposition of another.

At Secretary of State Dean Rusk's direction, in the past year Alexis Johnson has been a key man in stepping up co-operation between political, military, intelligence and economic agencies in Washington for the Viet Nam war and for the cold war generally.

It has been due in part to his quiet work that frictions between the State and Defense Departments, the Agency for International Development and the Central Intelligence Agency have been eased. He is considered one of the best "co-ordinators" in Washington.

Diplomat Johnson's leadership assets are simple things. He listens to other people. He makes other men feel their ideas are important. He has no pomposity. He never pretends to have "the" solution.

As deputy Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs, he's worked closely with Gen. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He and Taylor have been friends since Japan in 1936, when young Johnson was a vice consul and Captain Taylor a language student. He's regarded highly at the Central Intelligence Agency and AID.

Alexis Johnson has been a troubleshooter in Asian and Communist hot spots most of his life.

When Pearl Harbor started World War II in the Pacific, he was American vice consul in Manchuria. He was Dean Rusk's deputy in Far Eastern affairs during the Korean War. In the occupation of Japan, he was a political adviser to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

As ambassador to Czechoslovakia, he conducted the long, frustrating negotiations with Communist China for the release of U. S. citizens. During the years after Dien Bien Phu when the Reds were building their strength in Laos, he was ambassador in next-door Thailand. He was one of the key men working behind the scenes at White House conferences in the U. S.-Soviet "eyeball-to-eyeball" crisis over Cuba.

Johnson was jumped over the heads of senior men to become the top career official in the State Department as Taylor is the top military man in defense.

He is still a young 55.

Memory Lane

Ten Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dube, 608 S. 11th St., observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary on July 4. They were married in St. Anne's church by Father Menard.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. LaBranche, and Rosemary, Jean and John, of 400 S. 10th St., returned from a two weeks trip to Quebec province.

The fireworks display scheduled for Iron Mountain's July 4th celebration was seriously curtailed when one of the flower pots exploded and set fire to much of the other fireworks. The fire department had to be called to get the display under control. A few units of the display were saved and set off.

Twenty Years Ago

Five Manistiquie residents spent the 4th of July fishing for lake trout off Munising. Their luck was very good with Vernon Patz coming off with the prize catch, a 30 pounder. Other catches were a 15-pounder, one 12 pounds and others ranged 11, 8 and 7 pounds each.

A disaster of appalling magnitude came to Hartford, Conn. yesterday. Ringling Brothers Circus was playing to a capacity audience when the big top caught fire. About 6,000 people were in attendance, more than 150 are reported dead.

Marcus Olson, of Marquette, won the Upper Michigan birling championship at the Gladstone celebration July 4. He defeated Bob Bizeau, of Gladstone in three straight falls.

Thirty Years Ago

Work has started on plans to flood the Seney marshes and turn the area into a wildlife refuge. About 50 square miles are in the project.

Mrs. Ulrika Abrahamson of 800 First Ave. S. was feted yesterday at open house, many guests and many letters and telegrams on the occasion of her 85th birthday anniversary. She has been a resident of Escanaba since 1871, coming here to be married to her old country sweetheart, Erick Abrahamson, who had sent for her.

The church at Flat Rock is serving one of its famous chicken dinners next Sunday—all you can eat for 75 cents. Children will be charged 35 cents. Busses will make special runs from Escanaba and back throughout the day.

Polish Papers Praise And Scold Robert Kennedy

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy's bid for Polish initiative to improve U.S.-Soviet relations won approval Sunday from the Polish Communist party newspaper.

Trybun Ludu hailed Kennedy's "emphasis on building bridges between nations," but scolded the American attorney general for "notoriously being late" for appointments with Polish leaders and for speaking to crowds from the roofs of cars.

Staebler's Bid To Get Boost

DETROIT (AP)—The popular appeal of President Johnson will be a big boost for Democratic Congressman Neil Staebler's bid to unseat Republican Gov. George W. Romney according to a Detroit News Poll of Election Trends.

The poll released Monday, reflects a sharp cut into Gov. Romney's previously large voter appeal if Democrat Staebler is paired with President Johnson and Romney with either Gov. Scranton or Sen. Goldwater as the GOP presidential nominee.

If Romney were paired with Scranton, the poll said, and ran against a Staebler-Johnson ticket, Romney would get 49 per cent of the vote for governor; Staebler 44 and seven per cent of the state's voters would be classified as undecided.

If Romney were paired with Goldwater against the Johnson-Staebler ticket, Romney would get 50 per cent of the governorship vote; Staebler 45 per cent and five per cent of Michigan voters would be rated undecided.

Some hint of the President's impact on state politics is revealed by the poll by contrasting the latest voter survey with a survey held in May. In the May survey Staebler and Romney were not paired with a presidential nominee. In that poll Romney gained 53.3 per cent; Staebler 30.7 per cent.

Grieving Father Of 12 Children Hangs Himself

The death left 12 motherless children and Galvin Urtado, 38, their grief-stricken father.

Police called to Urtado's home by neighbors Sunday found him hanged.

Ann Landers Keeping Secrets Aids Friendship

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing about the woman who is fearful that her popularity was based on a rare talent for passing on gossip. She signed her letter "Blabbermouth" and closed by saying, "I don't like myself very much today." May I add something which may be of value?

When I was a child I overheard a friend of my mother's confiding an intimate family problem. Mother saw me standing behind the door — listening. She said nothing.

After the woman left, mother called me to the sewing room to have a little talk. She started by saying, "Son, if a friend left a pocketbook or a wallet in our house you wouldn't give away her money, would you?" I replied, "Of course not."

Mother continued, "Well, today a friend left something in our home which is far more precious than money. It is her secret. If we give it away it would hurt her terribly. We would be hurting ourselves too, because we always end up sad when we do things that make other people unhappy."

I never told a soul what I heard that day. My mother's words made such an impression on me that to this day I have never passed on one bit of gossip. Keeping my mouth shut has become a way of life.

I have profited from this lesson which I learned early in life. Perhaps this is why I have maintained so many lasting and cherished friendships. — OLD LOCK JAW

Dear O.L.J.: What a wise and wonderful mother you had! Not only was her philosophy sound, but she had a most effective way of teaching you personal integrity. Thank you for sharing her wisdom with us.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband was sent to a large city 300 miles away to set up a new office for his firm. His assistant is with him and they share an apartment. I've never met his assistant but I've heard he is extremely handsome and a wild man with the women.

I wrote to my husband recently and asked if his assistant was married. He replied, "I don't stick my nose into other people's business. I wouldn't ask the guy if he is married and he wouldn't ask me such a personal question, either."

This got me to thinking. My husband hasn't been home in six weeks. (He promised to get home every other weekend.) Since when are a wife and five children considered "too personal to talk about?"

I have a hunch these two are living it up — like bachelors. Maybe I've been alone too much and I'm getting a little nutty. Please set me straight. — CURTAIN OF DOUBT

Dear Curtain: I agree you've been alone too much — but you are far from nutty to wonder what's going on.

If your husband doesn't come home next weekend, make arrangements to have someone stay with the children so you can go visit him and have a nice little talk.

Dear Ann: We live in an apartment which has no garage or parking facilities. We must park our car on the street, sometimes three or four blocks from our building.

Two homeowners live in our block. They have driveways and garages. Last night I parked my car in front of one of these homes. The owner came out and said, "You'll have to move. This space is reserved for our friends." I moved.

Does she have the right to reserve the parking places in front of her home? She says she does because she is a homeowner. Right? — VAL

Dear Val: Wrong. The woman may own the home, but she doesn't own the street. You have as much right to park in front of her house as she does. If she doesn't believe you, she can ask the chief of police.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Umpires Due Salary Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League's Executive Council, meeting with representatives of the league's umpires association, has reached a verbal agreement on an increase in the umpires' pension fund.

The agreement, which came after three hours of closed door meetings Monday, must be approved by the league at the summer meeting, tentatively scheduled Aug. 10 in Chicago.

John Reynolds, attorney for the umpires' group, said he would present the agreement to the association and NL President Warren Giles would present it to the league.

The umpires, who on May 26 threatened a strike unless the pension plan was improved, currently receive $200 per year for each year of service upon retirement at age 55. They rejected a league offer boosting the figure to $250 in May, and demanded $300.

Player Urges Pro Grid Meet

BOSTON (AP)—Okay, so the American Football League — management, that is—can't talk the National into a playoff. Now labor is giving it a try.

At least such an interleague meeting on the field as well as off has been proposed by Tommy Addison, Boston Patriots' linebacker and president of the AFL Player Association.

Addison has contacted Orrell Braase, Baltimore Colts' defensive end who is NFL counterpart. Addison suggests a meeting of both league's associations to "end this senseless war" and improve pro football in general and the players' lot in particular.

Braase said in Baltimore he had received word from Addison but would not comment until he has discussed the matter with his association's membership.

Torre Ready For Atlanta

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Torre, the Milwaukee Braves' National League All-Star catcher, has pasted an "A" over the white "M" on his uniform cap. "A" is for Atlanta.

"You can see I'm ready for Peachtree Street right now," cracked Torre Monday before heading for New York and today's All-Star game.

He and other Braves had been asked to comment on reports that the Braves will be in Atlanta in 1965. And while the Braves' management has not said flatly that the National League team will be in Milwaukee next season none of the players would go out on a limb.

One of the players, who didn't want his name used, said, "Everything I own is tied up in Milwaukee, but I can't blame the management for wanting me to move. We have to draw 1,200,000 persons to actually make it a million paid because of the special ticket programs offered to boost baseball as well as attendance."

Rival All-Star Managers Favor New Pitcher Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — The rival All-Star managers, hard pressed to select a rested starting pitcher for today's mid-summer classic between the National and American Leagues, advocated a wider range of pitchers to choose from for future All-Star games.

American League Manager Al Lopez, after much deliberation, picked Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels as his starter although the right-hander pitched Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. All eight AL pitchers worked over the weekend.

National League Manager Walter Alton's choice was cut and dried. He named Don Drysdale of his own Los Angeles Dodgers team partly because Don was the only right-hander on the NL All-Star staff who had not pitched over the weekend. Four of the seven NL pitchers worked Sunday.

Originally, Alton had four right-handers to choose from but the nomination became automatic when Jim Bunning pitched Saturday and Juan Marchal and Dick Farrell worked Sunday. Drysdale turned back the New York Mets 6-2 Friday night.

"At the moment I have no idea who will be my second pitcher," said Lopez. "It depends on which one is more rested, and the line-up of the National League uses. I could use Camillo Pascual, a right-hander, or Gary Peters, a left-hander, depending upon the situation."

And I've always got Dick Radatz and John Wyatt."

Alton said that in all probability Bunning, Philadelphia's perfect game pitcher, would be his second choice, followed by Philly southpaw Chris Short, the most rested of the 15 All-Star pitchers. Short has not pitched since Thursday.

While neither manager agreed with Casey Stengel's suggestion that a rule be passed prohibiting an All-Star pitcher from working the Sunday before the game, both agreed that a change was desirable.

"I would prefer that, instead of selecting seven or eight pitchers, we name 10 or 11," said Alton. "In this way we can be better protected against a possible shortage of sufficiently rested."

"It's this way every year," said Lopez. "Managers fighting for a pennant are going to arrange their rotation so as to get their best pitcher to work Sunday. In this way, he can have him ready to pitch again after the three-day All-Star break."

Lopez said he had no specific plans to make changes after the first three innings. Starting pitchers, other than pitchers, are required to play the first three innings.

Spectator New King Of Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — They crowned a new king today for the 1964 British Open Golf Championship at the birthplace of the game.

He's a character known as the spectator.

Off the printing presses rolled enough tickets to accommodate 30,000 people to watch the 104th Open title play which starts Wednesday and endures 72 holes over the most impolite 6,926 yards of trouble in existence.

In 1873 Tom Kidd won the championship here from 25 competitors and a bibulous gallery of 50.

As the American challengers, led by Jack Nicklaus, Doug Sanders, Tony Lema and Doug Ford, and others arrived, the spectator fever hit the Old Course. Golf fans by the hundreds wandered around, sporting their spectator tickets.

"The spectator is the king nowadays," said George Simms, press officer for the Open.

Simms, a golf writer in Britain for years, is by his very existence a sign of the times. The Royal and Ancient Club once permitted the press to come to Drysdale, who was the starting pitcher in three previous All-Star games, faced a line-up that included home run leader Harmon Killebrew, batting leader Bob Allison, No. 2 hitter Tony Oliva, switch-hitting star Mickey Mantle and last year's most valuable player Elston Howard. Other AL starters included Bobby Richardson, Jim Fregosi and Brooks Robinson.

It was the first All-Star appearance for the 23-year-old Chance, who was faced with the task of overcoming a powerful NL batting order that included Roberto Clemente, Willie Mays and Billy Williams, the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 hitters in the league. Other starters included Orlando Cepeda, Ron Hunt, Dick Groat, Ken Boyer, and Joe Torre.

The American League held a 17-16 edge, although the National League has won 12 of the last 18. One game ended in a tie.

Brown Signed By Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Former Maryland halfback and first baseman Tom Brown, who struck out in professional baseball, is going to try his hand in the National Football League with the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers, who finished second in the Western Conference as they bid for a third straight league title last year, said Monday night the 23-year-old Brown had signed.

Terms were not disclosed, but Brown reported signed for a salary of about $20,000 and a bonus of $6,000—the same terms offered when he was drafted by the Packers in 1962.

Brown, a football star and baseball All-American at the University of Maryland, was a 1963 spring sensation for the Washington Senators, who paid him a bonus of "about $20,000." He opened the season at first base after hitting .312 in the exhibitions.

But after hitting only .167 in 61 American League games, he was farmed out to York, Pa., in the Class AA Eastern League, where he hit .228 in 77 games.

He was back at York this year, and his average dipped below .200 before he told Manager Jim Lemon he would play his last professional baseball game Sunday night.

The Packers consider Brown a top prospect for either flanker back or defensive back. He is 6-foot-1 and 190 pounds.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet men's track and field team that opposes the United States at Los Angeles July 25-26 will be stronger than the one that put up a strong battle against American trackmen here last year, according to Russian Coach Gavril Korobkov.

But Korobkov squelched an anticipated broad jump duel between Russian world record holder Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and U.S. ace Ralph Boston Monday by disclosing that Ter-Ovanesyan will not make the trip.

Boston topped the Russian's world mark of 27 feet, 3 1/4 inches with a wind-aided leap of 27-5 1/2 last Friday at the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Korobkov told the official Soviet news agency, Tass, that Ter-Ovanesyan was sick. He missed the Znamensky Brothers Memorial Meet in Moscow last weekend.

In the 1963 meet in Moscow, American men defeated the Russians 119-114.

Highstyle Hilltopper... Rambler Classic V-8

This dazzling hardtop is the Rambler Classic 770. It takes off with more V-8 power than the standard V-8 in the top-size Ford or Chevrolet, parks easier, has virtually the same room, yet costs over $200 less,* and gives you a long list of important advantages at no extra cost. And with what you save on Rambler, you can keep your pocketbook happy and still add smart, sporty options like floor shift (manual or automatic), reclining bucket seats with console, seven-position steering wheel, power steering, power brakes, power windows—you name them. If you like fun, flair and glamour—and smart savings, too—now is the time to see your nearby Rambler dealer.

Soo Man Rows To World Fair

DETROIT (AP)—A 210-pound six-footer, who bills himself as Seaway Tony Calery "the row-in'est man in the land," stopped over in Detroit Monday on the first leg of 2,000-mile trip from Sault Ste. Marie to the New York World's Fair.

There are many ways to get to the fair. Some drive, some fly, some sail, some might even hitchhike, ride bicycles or walk.
Calery is making the trip in a 16-foot rowboat.

"Some guy up and asked me
"why don't you row to the fair," explained Calery, who goes by the moniker of "Timber Tony" when working at his trade as a log cutter up north. "Okay," I said, because it sounded like a pretty good idea. You hear of lots of guys going to the fair, but how many of them are rowing there?"

Too Much Hospitality
What does it take to row a dinghy to the fair?

An unshakable confidence in being able to live off the land, and a good supply of chewing tobacco and cigars.

Calery is doing alright. Some local admirers have put him up at a plush Detroit hotel. He expects to continue on his trip
Wednesday.

"During the day I chew tobacco and during the night I smoke cigars," says Calery. "Never had trouble with short wind in my life."

He set out on his trip June 13 and hopes to arrive in New York on Labor Day. He said he will row across Lake Erie, the Welland Canal and Lake Ontario to the Erie Canal. From there he will travel across New York state to the Mohawk and Hudson Rivers to Manhattan.

But Calery said hospitality offered by cities along the route may hold up his schedule.

Hopes To Get On TV
"They take care of me pretty good and it beats sleeping on the beach like I did the first three nights out," he said.

In New York, Calery hopes to promote his trip into a television appearance or two, enough to get along on, and for a free trip home.

Calery got started in marathon rowing in 1958. A Sault Ste. Marie radio announcer believed he couldn't row a boat around nearby Sugar Island.

"It's about 55 miles around there," he said. "So I got a guy to come. He fished and I rowed.
We made it in about a day and a half."

He got his nickname when he rowed from the Soo to Muskegon in 17 days back in 1962.

"The Seaway Festival was going on at the time so when I got there everyone started calling me 'Seaway Tony,'" he explained.

Business Slow
For Fair Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—"Wonder
World"—the $3.5-million show at the World's Fair—closed Sunday because of poor business.

The coproducers of "Ice-Travaganza" said that unless business picks up, the ice show will put on its last performance
Saturday.

Business at the Texas Pavilion's "To Broadway With Love" was described as "terrible" over the weekend. Sunday's show was the last Sunday performance. From now on it will be on a six day-a-week basis.

Fair exhibitors had hoped for daily crowds of 300,000 or more over the holiday weekend. The figures never got to 200,000.

Fakhouri Leaves Bay College For Year In Egypt

Hani Fakhouri, sociologist, will leave Bay de Noc Community College for a year in Egypt. Working with the U. S. State Department, Fakhouri will study the resettlement problems in the Aswan Dam area. The project is a combined effort of the U. S. State Department, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the American University in Cairo.

Fakhouri is a member of a six man team hired for this year. Other members come from Harvard, Columbia, University of Chicago and UCLA.

As a member of the research team, Fakhouri will live in a resettlement village with the people. He will attempt to observe the changes, if any, in values, attitudes, and behavior of the people as a result of the resettlement.

The resettlement villages, some as much as 500 miles from the dam site, are rural communities built by the Egyptian government. Residents of the villages previously lived in the area now being flooded behind the dam.

The four year old project is expected to yield data of broad significance. "Sociologists in America are already aware of the changes which took place in this country in shifting from a rural to an urban society," said Fakhouri.

"If our government is going to effectively spend money in aiding other countries, we must know what changes take place there when people are asked to change their way of living. The data collected in Egypt will be especially valuable in giving us an idea of how this change can be accomplished and whether or not it will follow the pattern of change that took place in America."

Fakhouri is a native of Jordan and has studied at Wayne State University, University of Michigan, and Michigan State University. Last year he taught sociology, anthropology, and current affairs at Bay College. Bay College President Richard Rinehart said "A man of Hani's caliber will be hard to replace. He was not only a good instructor, but his broad experience in other universities gave him a valuable insight into our problems here."

"It is also worth noting that the market for teachers in higher education is highly competitive. Good instructors at any college receive many offers every year, not only from educational institutions, but from government and industry as well."

Revis Reports Peninsula Gain In Growth Needs

Joseph Revis, senior economist of the technical aid staff supplied to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress by Robert Nathan Associates under an Area Redevelopment Administration grant, has left with his family for Korea, regretting termination of his Upper Peninsula service.

Revis, a former college teacher of economics in New England, has served a pioneering role in providing economic counseling to UPCA, which was created two years ago by 14 boards of supervisors of the Upper Peninsula to work for economic development of the area.

Revis is taking his family to Korea for two years for Nathan Associates, which holds a contract for technical aid to the Republic of Korea.

Nathan is phasing out the second part of a service to ARA in the Upper Peninsula with the training of two executives for UPCA, Dr. Bert Bowden, executive director, and David Farrand, industrial specialist. The Nathan contract with ARA for UPCA ends at the end of July.

Revis said he thought that the Upper Peninsula and UPCA were unusually fortunate in getting two industrial developers of the quality of Dr. Bowden and Farrand. "I hope the area will recognize the contributions that such people can make to its economic development," said Revis.

"In my judgment the Upper Peninsula has moved in two years in two major ways."

"1. The state has recognized UPCA by providing an economic planner for its staff. (From the Department of Economic Expansion.)"

"2. The most important development — although UPCA's industrial projects are important — has been a merger of enthusiasm, interest and participation in the Upper Peninsula."

"Still missing is a realization of what the processes of economic development involve. The region must recognize that its interest lies in a partnership of private enterprise and government action."

Revis has been here for 22 months, counseling planning groups of the Peninsula on the feasibility of development projects and on how to process plans. UPCA's service to the Peninsula started with planning groups which had little experience in the field. There has been a Peninsula-wide activity under the guidance of UPCA in the past two years.

"I don't camp or fish; I'm a city boy," said Revis "and the Upper Peninsula has been a new experience for us. Our children minded leaving more than any other place we have lived. Once you have lived here it leaves a mark on you. It is different. It's people have a special independence."

"They practically live in the forest but they like it so much that many of them have camps besides and they rush off to them for weekends. We'll miss the Upper Peninsula and we are already planning to come back for visits."
